

Letter Sunglasses

Put the letter sunglasses back together and match uppercase with lowercase.

Helps Your Child Grow

Print and Alphabet Knowledge

Matching uppercase and lowercase letter forms and checking an alphabet chart helps your child recognize two written forms of the same English letter.

Steps

- Draw several pairs of sunglasses. Put an uppercase letter on one lens and its matching lowercase letter on the other, such as A - a or H - h.
- Cut each pair apart at the bridge, mix the halves on the table, and ask your child to repair the broken sunglasses.
- Keep an alphabet chart nearby as a reference. Your child can match familiar pairs independently and check the chart when unsure.
- Whenever a pair comes together, name both forms: "This is uppercase A and this is lowercase a. They are both the letter A."
- Tape the matching halves together and count how many pairs you repaired.

Tips

- Begin with only a few letters - the ones your child has already encountered.
- To make matching easier, draw the sunglasses in different colors. The colors provide an extra clue and help your child narrow down the matching half.

Observations

- Matches uppercase A with lowercase a
- Joins the two halves of the sunglasses with tape
